Subject: Citizens' appeal for EU strategic autonomy and support for Greenland

To the Members of the European Council, the European Commission, the Council of the European Union, and the European Parliament,

As representatives involved in the decision-making processes of the European Union, from defining strategic political orientations to formulating policies and legislation, you bear a significant responsibility for the future of our Union.

We represent a collective of European citizens.

We are deeply concerned by current global instabilities, particularly those arising from repeated unilateral declarations by the President of the United States. We hold a firm commitment to the core values of the European Union: human dignity, the rule of law, freedom, equality, democracy, and human rights. We believe in the sovereignty of peoples and their right to determine their own future, free from external imposition, particularly those driven by predatory or mercantile interests.

Our collective is non-partisan, and we believe a significant majority of Europeans shares the desire to protect these fundamental values and principles.

Our Requests:

- Implementation of all available measures, existing or prospective
Consequently, we, as European citizens, urge you to resist all forms of external pressure and to employ all available means to ensure our collective security, both now and in the future.
As diplomatic channels and existing strategies appear insufficient in the face of recent severe threats, a more assertive stance has become necessary. We ask you to consider all possible measures, whether existing, such as the Anti-Coercion Instrument, or yet to be developed, given the unprecedented nature of the current situation.
- Advancing Europe toward genuine strategic autonomy
To ensure our independence, we request that you resolutely steer Europe toward genuine strategic autonomy. Our sovereignty must be extended to all vital sectors: defense, payment systems, data, energy, and more. Europe cannot leave these essential areas solely in the hands of market actors, nor can it risk losing control over them, regardless of historical alliances. We offer our full support for this direction, as we strive for a united and sovereign Europe that guarantees the freedom of its peoples.

This message is being addressed simultaneously to all European citizens, the people of Greenland, and American citizens. Our goal is to demonstrate that beyond our governments, the peoples of Europe and America stand united against unilateral actions and the "law of the strongest," which undermine international rules and the right of peoples to determine their own destiny.

United and Sovereign.

A collective of committed European citizens.
